DETAILED ACTION

Status of Application

1. Acknowledgement is made of applicant's filing of amendment/remarks on 10/06/08. By the amendment, claim 2 has been amended and claims 8 and 9 have been cancelled.
2. Rejections and/or objections not reiterated from previous office actions are hereby withdrawn. The following rejections and/or objections are either reiterated or newly applied. They constitute the complete set of actions being applied to the instant application.
3. Claims 2, 5-7, 14-15 and 17 are currently pending for prosecution on the merits.
4. The applicant's elected species, 4-hydroxy-3-nitroacetophenone, appears to be allowable over the prior art. Thus, the examiner will extend the search to other non-elected species represented by the formula (III) when R6 is -CH=CH-R44; R44 is COR46; R46 is aryl; R7 and R8 are alkyl and examine for prosecution on the merits of the case.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 2, 5-7 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Dorwald et al. (US 7208497).

Dorwald discloses a compound of the general formula such as

3-(3,5-di-tert-butyl-4-hydroxyphenyl)-1-(4-propyl-piperazin-1-yl)propanone or a pharmaceutically acceptable salt which reads on the instant formula III that is useful for the treatment of histamine H3 receptor mediated disease including obesity or impaired glucose tolerance, diabetes, especially Type 2 diabetes, etc... (column 23, lines 13-52; Example 23).

With respect to the recitation of "increasing mitochondrial respiration" in the claim 2, when the same compound is administered to treat the same patient population, the mechanism of action of "increasing mitochondrial respiration" deems to be inherent to the referenced method. Therefore, the reference anticipates the claimed invention.

With respect to the recitation of "a chemical uncoupler" in claim 14, such property or characteristic deems to be inherent to the referenced compound. Since the compound being a chemical uncoupler as defined is merely a characterization of the compound, Dorwald anticipates the claimed invention.

It is noted that the recitation of the compound having a slope calculated from an equation as defined in the instant claims is merely a characterization of the compound and therefore does not limit the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dorwald et al. (US 7208497).

The teaching of Dorwald has been discussed in above 35 USC 102(e) rejection. In addition, Dorwald teaches that aryl, namely phenyl, can be also substituted with one or more of cation containing substituents such as nitro, cyano, C1-6-alkylsulfonyl, etc... (column 8, line 60 through column 9, line 20; column 11, lines 33-67; column 12, lines 1-54).

Although Dorwald does not specifically mention the use of said compound in the form of “a cation”, such determination of “cation” would have apparent to those skilled in the art under the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 103.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claim 17 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
